This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

NOTES AND ABBREVIATIONS.

1. All names in Part II are arranged alphabetically, and where there are more than one of the same name they appear according to priority of service.

2. An asterisk (*) before a name indicates that the officer attained the rank of brigadier or major-general either by regular or brevet commission in the regular or volunteer forces.

3. Following the name of each officer will be found, first, the State or country where born, and, second, the State from which originally appointed, but when this appears only once it indicates the State whence appointed, the place of birth not being known.

4. Cadet M A in bold-face type indicates that the officer graduated at the United States Military Academy; the adjoining date when he entered that institution; the figure in parentheses his standing in the graduating class, and his first appointment the date of his graduation, except in the class of 1901, which was graduated February 18, and were commissioned in the Army to rank from February 2, 1901.

5. All data relating to appointments or commissions has been obtained from original records of the War Department, supplemented from other authentic sources, or supplied by living officers or the families of those deceased.

6. No record is herein given of appointments or commissions that were not accepted. Such as were declined, revoked, or canceled, and under which no service was rendered, have been omitted.

7. All commissions, appointments, promotions, casualties, etc., have been added or revised up to the time each page was put in type.

8. A work of this dimension, covering so long a period, although compiled and revised with the utmost care, will doubtless contain some errors or omissions, and the compiler will take it kindly to be informed of any that may be discovered.

PREFACE.

From the close of the revolutionary war to September, 1789, there was practically no United States Army. A regiment of infantry and a battalion of artillery—in all, about 700 officers and men—were retained at the close of the war to guard public stores and property and to occupy posts vacated by the British on the northwest boundaries of the United States. By act of Congress of June 3, 1784, it was resolved, "As it appears absolutely necessary to have 700 noncommissioned officers and men, properly officered, it is recommended to the following States, as most convenient to the posts shortly to be vacated by the British, to furnish from their militia: Connecticut, 165; New York, 165; New Jersey, 110; Pennsylvania, 260, to serve twelve months, unless sooner discharged."

The troops thus provided for were formed into a regiment, consisting of eight companies of infantry and two companies of artillery, under the command of Lieut. Col. Josiah Harmar.

By subsequent legislation slight changes were made in the number and organization of the troops, and the reenlistment of the 700 men engaged under the resolution of April 12, 1785, was authorized by Congress October 3, 1787. This force, then consisting of a battalion (four companies) of artillery and a regiment (eight companies) of infantry, was, by the act of September 29, 1789, "recognized to be the establishment for the troops in the service of the United States."

No appointments or commissions had been issued by the General Government, the officers holding their appointments from the States which had furnished the quota. The officers retained in service were all commissioned as of the United States Army from September 29, 1789.

Everything relating to the appointment of officers was destroyed by the burning of the War Department, November 9, 1800. It therefore became necessary, in order to supply the missing links, to search the Executive Journals of the United States Senate, pay accounts in the Treasury Department, old manuscript registers in the possession of families or descendants of deceased officers, etc. In brief, neither labor nor expense has been spared in securing the most reliable information possible in the effort to produce this compilation, in the hope that it may be a standard and reliable work of reference.

F. B. Heitman.

[a] From the date of General Washington's death, Dec. 14, 1799, to June 1, 1821, when General Brown assumed command, there was no general officer formally assigned to the permanent command of the Army. During this period direct control of the Army (except at irregular intervals from June, 1800, to Jan., 1812, when General Wilkinson exercised command) was exercised by the Secretary of War. In the above list, however, the name of the senior officer of the Army is given for each period specified from Dec., 1799 to June, 1821.

[b] General Scott left for Mexico Nov. 21, 1846, and from that date to May 11, 1849, he had no control of the Army not included in his own command. He was assigned to the command of the eastern division Aug. 31, 1848, and resumed command of the Army May 11, 1849.

[c] General McClellan did not exercise command of the Army after Mar. 11, 1862, General Halleck assumed command July 23, 1862.

The President of the United States is at all times the Commander in Chief of the Army and Navy.

CHIEFS OF BUREAUS OR STAFF CORPS OF THE ARMY, 1775 TO 1903.

ADJUTANT-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT.

The Adjutant-General's Department eo nomine was first established under the act of March 3, 1813.

From the disbandment of the Army in 1783 until the act of March 3, 1791, there was no regular Adjutant-General. The act of March 5, 1792, provided for an adjutant who should also do duty as inspector, and this dual function continued until the reorganization of the Army in 1821, which abolished the office of Adjutant and Inspector-General. This act, in effect, reduced the Adjutant-General's Department to one officer. There appears to have been no change in the legal status of the Department from that date to 1838, when, by the act of July 5 of that year, the President was empowered to appoint as many assistant adjutant-generals, not exceeding six, as he might deem necessary.

6 July, 1812	12 Mar., 1813	Brig. Gen. T. H. Cushing	Adjutant-General.

[a] Colonel Pickering was elected a member of the Board of War November 7, 1777, but continued to do duty as Adjutant-General until General Scammel's arrival, January 13, 1778.

[b] Colonel Scammel resigned his staff appointment January 1, 1781, to take command of the First New Hampshire Regiment, but remained at headquarters until relieved by General Hand, January 12, 1781.

[c] On the general disbandment of the Continental Army, Captain North, who had been designated as inspector to the troops remaining in service, acted as adjutant and inspector to October 28, 1787.

[d] The act of March 3, 1797, permitted the brigadier-general (general in chief) to select his brigade major from the line of the Army. Major Cushing, not having relinquished his rank in the infantry on being appointed inspector, was selected by General Wilkinson and continued to perform the duties of inspector and adjutant until May 22, 1798.

[e] The act of May 14, 1800, disbanded the Adjutant-General, and the duties of adjutant and inspector were performed, under detail, by Major Cushing (who resided in Washington) from June 15, 1800, to April 2, 1807.

[f] Colonel Macomb relieved Major Nicoll April 28, 1812, having been directed in War Department order of that date "to perform the duties of Adjutant-General until further orders."

[a] General Pike was killed, after the capture of York, Upper Canada, by the explosion of a magazine April 27, 1813. From this time until May 19, 1814, the office remained vacant, the act of March 3, 1813, having been construed to the effect that there could be but one Adjutant and Inspector-General, who must either be an officer appointed and confirmed to that office, or else be a brigadier-general especially designated by the President to perform the functions. The affairs of the office were meanwhile administered by Maj. C. K. Gardner, Assistant Adjutant-General, until December 30, 1813, and from that date to May 28, 1814 (with the exception of the brief term of service of General Winder), by Col. J. De B. Walbach, Adjutant-General, who was relieved at that date by Maj. John R. Bell, assistant inspector.

[b] General Parker was appointed Paymaster-General June 1, 1821. By general orders of that date from Headquarters of the Army, Lieut. E. Kirby, aid-de-camp, was directed to perform the duties of Adjutant-General of the Army until further orders.

[c] Colonel Gadsden's appointment was not confirmed by the Senate, and his commission expired March 22, 1822. On the following April 12 the President renominated him for the office, but the Senate adhered to its original determination.

INSPECTOR-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT.

The Inspector-General's Department was first established under the act of March 3, 1813, with an organization of eight inspectors-general and sixteen adjutants-general.

The office of Inspector-General dates from December 13, 1777, although Lieutenant-Colonel de la Balme, a French officer of cavalry, was appointed by Congress July 8, 1777, Inspector-General of Cavalry; and on August 11 M. du Coudray, a French artillery officer, was appointed Inspector-General of Ordnance and Military Manufactures. The Continental Congress resolved that two inspectors-general be appointed, and Brig. Gen. Thos. Conway was elected, but the other was not chosen.

JUDGE-ADVOCATE-GENERAL'S DEPARTMENT.

The offices of "Judge-Advocate-General" and "Judge-Advocate of the Army" (the first named created in 1775, when William Tudor, a law pupil of John Adams and a leading counselor of Boston, was elected to that position) lapsed in 1802, the act of March 16, of that year, limiting the line of the Army to three regiments. The last named was revived by the act of January 11, 1812, and again discontinued on the reorganization of the Army in 1821. The act of March 2, 1849, authorized the President to appoint a suitable person as Judge-Advocate of the Army. The Bureau of Military Justice was created June 20, 1864, but by the act of July 5, 1884, it was, with the Corps of Judge-Advocates, consolidated under the title of "Judge-Advocate-General's Department."

QUARTERMASTER'S DEPARTMENT.

The earliest legislation relating to the Quartermaster's Department dates from June 16, 1775, when Congress "resolved that there be one Quartermaster-General for the grand Army and one deputy under him for the separate army," and May 14, 1777, Congress adopted regulations for the guidance of the Quartermaster-General and his assistants.

July 15, 1780, Congress resolved that there be one Quartermaster-General and one assistant quartermaster-general, to be appointed by Congress, and one deputy quartermaster for each army, to be appointed by the Quartermaster-General, and promulgated a code of regulations for the government of the Quartermaster's Department.

July 25, 1785, the "Department of Quartermaster-General" ceased to exist.

The Quartermaster's Department, eo nomine, was first organized under the act of March 28, 1812.

SUBSISTENCE DEPARTMENT.

The earliest legislation relative to the subsistence of the Army is found in the resolution of the Continental Congress dated June 16, 1775, creating the office of Commissary-General of Stores and Provisions. The range of duties of that office was so extensive that much dissatisfaction prevailed with respect to the administration of the affairs of the department, and Congress, June 10, 1777, instituted a new system, creating two great branches—one under a Commissary-General of Purchases and the other under a Commissary-General of Issues, the former, by resolution of June 11, "to keep his office in the place where Congress shall sit."

The act of April 14, 1818, first created the office of Commissary-General, the incumbent to be appointed as soon as the state of existing contracts for the subsistence of the Army would permit.

MEDICAL DEPARTMENT.

July 27, 1775, Congress created a Hospital Department for the Army, its chief being designated as Director-General and Chief Physician. By the resolution of April 7, 1777, Congress adopted the scheme for a Medical Department prepared by the Army Medical Committee of Congress, based on the organization of the British service, and accepted because it was so; for, as General Washington said, "The number of officers mentioned in the inclosed plan, I presume, are necessary for us, because they are found so in the British hospitals."

For some years subsequent to the close of the Revolutionary war the Army consisted of troops enlisted for short terms of service, with no provision for medical service other than that afforded by regimental medical officers. The act of March 16, 1802, allowed 2 surgeons and 25 mates as the peace establishment, and by the act of April 12, 1808, the President was authorized to appoint such number of hospital surgeons and surgeons' mates as the service might require. There was, however, no provision made for a chief of the Department until, under the act of March 3, 1813, the office of Physician and Surgeon-General was created; but the act of April 14, 1818, gave to the Medical Department, for the first time in its history, a permanent chief under the title of "Surgeon-General."

The first formal establishment of a Corps of Engineers dates from March 11, 1779. The corps was disbanded in November, 1783, but partially revived May 9, 1794, and perfected by the act of March 16, 1802. In the earlier period of its organization the duties now pertaining to the Corps of Engineers were divided between two different branches, but although, as early as July 25, 1777, a "geographer and surveyor of the roads" was authorized, the special functions of topographical engineers were not specifically provided for until the act of March 3, 1813, authorizing eight topographical engineers and eight assistants. In August, 1818, a separate Topograhical Bureau was established in the War Department, under the immediate direction of the Secretary of War and the Chief Engineer. June 21, 1831, the Topographical Bureau was constituted by the Secretary of War a distinct bureau of the War Department; and by the act of July 5, 1838, an independent corps of topographical engineers was created. It was abolished by the act of March 3, 1863, and merged into the Corps of Engineers.

ORDNANCE DEPARTMENT.

May 27, 1775, Congress appointed a committee to consider ways and means to supply the colonies with ammunition and military stores, and the British Government having prohibited the exportation of arms and ammunition to any of the plantations the Congress authorized the exportation of produce in all vessels importing munitions of war.

While, July 16, 1776, a Commissioner of Artillery Stores was appointed (April 11, 1777, styled Commissioner-General of Military Stores) the business of procuring arms and ammunition was conducted by a secret committee and the Board of War.

The act of April 2, 1794, authorized the President to appoint an officer whose duty, under the Department of War, was to superintend the receiving, safe-keeping, and distribution of military stores.

The Ordnance Department was first established under the act of May 14, 1812. It was not provided for in the reduction of the Army March 3, 1815; but the act of April 24, 1816, provided that it be continued as organized under the act of February 8, 1815.

By the act of March 2, 1821, the Ordnance Department, as an independent bureau, was abolished and merged in the artillery. The President was authorized to select such artillery officers as might be necessary to perform ordnance duties, and to each regiment of that arm one supernumerary captain was attached for ordnance duty.

The Department was reorganized on an independent footing by the act of April 5, 1832.

SIGNAL CORPS.

The Signal Corps owes its origin to Maj. Albert J. Myer, who entered the Army in 1854 as an assistant surgeon, and whose active interest in sign language was manifested by its development, in 1856, into a system of signal communication which, attracting at first little or no attention, was two years later submitted to a military board convened for its consideration. It was not, however, until June 21, 1860, that Congress authorized the addition to the staff of the Army of one signal officer with the rank and pay of a major of cavalry. The "Signal Corps" was organized by the act of March 3, 1863.

RECORD AND PENSION OFFICE.

A bureau of the War Department created by the act of Congress approved May 9, 1892. It is charged by law with the custody of the military and hospital records of the volunteer armies, and has jurisdiction of all business of the War Department relating to disbanded volunteer armies and the organizations, officers, and enlisted men composing them, and it also has charge of the publication and distribution of the Official Records of the War of the Rebellion.

The archives of the office include all military records of the Revolutionary War, the records of all organizations of disbanded volunteers or militia that have been in the military service of the United States since the Revolutionary War, the records of the Provost-Marshal-General's bureau, the records of the Bureau of Refugees, Freedmen, and Abandoned Lands, the Confederate records, including those pertaining to the legislative, executive, and judicial branches of the Confederate Government.

The office was originally organized July 8, 1889, as a division in the office of the Secretary of War, and so remained until it was established as a separate bureau of the War Department by the act of May 9, 1892.

that he present a sword to each of the following officers engaged in that affair: To Captain JAMES HUNTER, to the eldest male representative of Lieutenant BENJAMIN JOHNSTON, and to Lieutenant CYRUS A. BAYLOR, JOHN MEEK, Ensign JOSEPH DUNCAN, and the nearest male representative of Ensign EDMUND SHIPP, deceased.
Approved, February 13, 1835.

4. That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to Major-General BROWN, and, through him, to the officers and men of the Regular Army and of the militia under his command, for their gallantry and good conduct in the successive battles of Chippewa, Niagara, and Erie, in Upper Canada, in which British veteran troops were beaten and repulsed by equal or inferior numbers; and that the President of the United States be requested to cause a gold medal to be struck emblematical of these triumphs and presented to Major-General BROWN.
Approved, November 3, 1814.

5. That the thanks of Congress be, and they hereby are, presented to Major-General AMBROSE E. BURNSIDE, and, through him, to the officers and men who have fought under his command, for their gallantry, good conduct, and soldier-like endurance.
Approved, January 28, 1864.

6. That the President of the United States be further requested to cause swords, with suitable devices, to be presented to Major-General BUTLER, Major-General HENDERSON, and to Brigadier-General TWIGGS, Brigadier-General WORTH, and Brigadier-General QUITMAN in testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of their gallantry and good conduct in storming Monterey.
Approved, March 2, 1847.

7. That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to Major-General GAINES, and, through him, to the officers and men under his command, for their gallantry and good conduct in defeating the enemy at Erie on the fifteenth of August, repelling with great slaughter the attack of a British veteran army, superior in number; and that the President of the United States be requested to cause a gold medal to be struck, emblematical of this triumph, and presented to Major-General GAINES.
Approved, November 3, 1814.

8. That the thanks of Congress be, and they hereby are, presented to Major-General ULYSSES S. GRANT, and, through him, to the officers and soldiers who have fought under his command during this rebellion, for their gallantry and good conduct in the battles in which they have been engaged; and that the President of the United States be requested to cause a gold medal to be struck, with suitable emblems, devices, and inscriptions, to be presented to Major-General GRANT. * * * That, when the said medal shall have been struck, the President shall cause a copy of this joint resolution to be engrossed on parchment, and shall transmit the same, together with the said medal, to Major-General GRANT, to be presented to him in the name of the people of the United States of America.
Approved, December 17, 1863.

9. That the President of the United States be further requested to present a sword, with suitable devices, to the nearest male relative of Brigadier-General HAMER, and to communicate to him the deep regret which Congress feels for the loss of a gallant man, whose name ought to live in the recollection and affection of a grateful country.
Approved, March 2, 1847.

10. That in addition to the thanks heretofore voted by joint resolution approved January twenty-eight, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, to Major-General GEORGE G. MEADE, Major-General OLIVER O. HOWARD, and to the officers and soldiers of the Army of the Potomac, for the skill and heroic valor which at Gettysburg repulsed, defeated, and drove back, broken and dispirited, the veteran army of the rebellion, the gratitude of the American people and the thanks of their representatives in Congress are likewise due, and are hereby tendered, to Major-General WINFIELD S. HANCOCK, for his gallant, meritorious, and conspicuous share in that great and decisive victory.
Approved, April 21, 1866.

11. That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to Major-General WILLIAM HENRY HARRISON, and ISAAC SHELBY, late governor of Kentucky, and, through them, to the officers and men under their command, for their gallantry and good conduct in defeating the combined British and Indian forces under Major-General Proctor, on the Thames, in Upper Canada, on the 5th day of October, 1813, capturing the British army, with their baggage, camp equipage, and artillery; and that the President of the United States be requested to cause two gold medals to be struck, emblematical of this triumph, and presented to General HARRISON, and ISAAC SHELBY, late governor of Kentucky.
Approved, April 4, 1818.

12. That the gratitude of the American people and the thanks of their representatives in Congress are due, and are hereby tendered, to Major-General JOSEPH HOOKER and the officers and soldiers of the Army of the Potomac for the skill, energy, and endurance which first covered Washington and Baltimore from the meditated blow of the advancing and powerful army of rebels led by General Robert E. Lee; and to Major-General GEORGE G. MEADE, Major-General OLIVER O. HOWARD, and the officers and soldiers of that army for the skill and heroic valor which at Gettysburg repulsed, defeated, and drove back, broken and dispirited, beyond the Rappahannock, the veteran army of the rebellion.
Approved, January 28, 1864.

13. That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, given to Major-General JACKSON, and, through him, to the officers and soldiers of the Regular Army, of the militia, and of the volunteers under his command, the greater proportion of which troops consisted of militia and volunteers suddenly collected together, for their uniform gallantry and good conduct, conspicuously displayed against the enemy from the time of his landing before New Orleans until his final expulsion therefrom; and particularly for their valor, skill, and good conduct on the eighth of January last in repulsing, with great slaughter, a numerous British army of chosen veteran troops when attempting, by a bold and daring attack, to carry by storm the works hastily thrown up for the protection of New Orleans, and thereby obtaining a most signal victory over the enemy with a disparity of loss on his part unexampled in military annals. * * * That the President of the United States be requested to cause to be struck a gold medal, with devices emblematical of this splendid achievement, and presented to Major-General JACKSON as a testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his judicious and distinguished conduct on that memorable occasion.
Approved, February 27, 1815.

14. That the President of the United States be requested to present to Colonel RICHARD M. JOHNSON a sword as a testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of the daring and distinguished valor displayed by himself and the regiment of volunteers under his command in charging and essentially contributing to vanquish the combined British and Indian forces under Major-General Proctor, on the Thames in Upper Canada, on the fifth day of October, one thousand eight hundred and thirteen. [Died 19 November, 1850.]
Approved April 6, 1818.

15. That Congress deems it just and proper to enter upon its records a recognition of the eminent and patriotic services of the late Brigadier-General NATHANIEL LYON. The country to whose services he devoted his life will guard and preserve his fame as a part of its own glory.
That the thanks of Congress are hereby given to the brave officers and soldiers who, under the command of the late General LYON, sustained the honor of the flag and achieved victory against overwhelming numbers at the battle of Springfield, in Missouri; and that, in order to commemorate an event so honorable to the country and to themselves, it is ordered that each regiment engaged shall be authorized to bear on its colors the word "Springfield," embroidered in letters of gold. And the President of the United States is hereby requested to cause these resolutions to be read at the head of every regiment in the Army of the United States.
Approved, December 24, 1861.

16. That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to Major-General MACOMB, and, through him, to the officers and men of the Regular Army under his command, and to the militia and volunteers of New York and Vermont, for their gallantry and good conduct in defeating the enemy at Plattsburg on the eleventh of September; repelling with one thousand five hundred men, aided by a body of militia and volunteers from New York and Vermont, a British veteran army greatly superior in number; and that the President of the United States be requested to cause a gold medal to be struck, emblematical of this triumph, and presented to Major-General MACOMB.
Approved, November 3, 1814.

17. That the President of the United States be requested to cause gold medals to be struck, with suitable emblems and devices, and presented to Brigadier-General RIPLEY, Brigadier-General MILLER, and Major General PORTER, in testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of their gallantry and good conduct in the several conflicts of Chippewa, Niagara, and Erie.
Approved, November 3, 1814.

18. That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to Major-General WILLIAM S. ROSECRANS, and, through him, to the officers and men under his command, for their distinguished gallantry and good conduct at the battle of Murfreesboro, Tennessee, where they achieved a signal victory for our arms.
Approved, March 3, 1863.

19. That the President of the United States be requested to cause a gold medal to be struck, with suitable emblems and devices, and presented to Major-General SCOTT, in testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his distinguished services in the successive conflicts of Chippewa and Niagara, and of his uniform gallantry and good conduct in sustaining the reputation of the arms of the United States.
Approved, November 3, 1814.

20. That the thanks of Congress be, and they are hereby, presented to WINFIELD SCOTT, major general, commander in chief of the army in Mexico, and, through him, to the officers and men of the regular and volunteer corps under him, for their uniform gallantry and good conduct conspicuously displayed at the seige and capture of the city of Vera Cruz and Castle of San Juan de Ulloa, March twenty-ninth, eighteen hundred and forty-seven; and in the successive battles of Cerro Gordo, April nineteenth and twentieth; and the victories achieved in front of the City of Mexico, September eighth, eleventh, twelfth, and thirteenth, and the capture of the metropolis, September fourteenth, eighteen hundred and forty-seven, in which the Mexican troops, greatly superior in numbers, and with every advantage of position, were in every conflict signally defeated by the American arms.
That the President of the United States be, and he is hereby, requested to cause to be struck a gold medal, with devices emblematical of the series of brilliant victories achieved by the army, and presented to Major-General WINFIELD SCOTT, as a testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his valor, skill, and judicious conduct in the memorable campaign of eighteen hundred and forty-seven.
Approved, March 9, 1848.

21. That the thanks of Congress are hereby tendered to Major-General PHILIP H. SHERIDAN, and to the officers and men under his command, for the gallantry, military skill, and courage displayed in the brilliant series of victories achieved by them in the valley of the Shenandoah, and especially for their services at Cedar Run, on the nineteenth day of October, eighteen hundred and sixty-four, which retrieved the fortunes of the day and thus averted a great disaster.
Approved, February 9, 1865.

22. That the thanks of Congress and of the people of the United States are due, and that the same are hereby tendered to Major-General W. T. SHERMAN, commander of the Department and Army of the Tennessee, and the officers and soldiers who served under him, for their gallant and arduous services in marching to the relief of the Army of the Cumberland, and for their gallantry and heroism in the battle of Chattanooga, which contributed in a great degree to the success of our arms in that glorious victory.
Approved, February 18, 1864.

23. That the thanks of the people and of the Congress of the United States are due and are hereby tendered to Major-General WILLIAM T. SHERMAN, and through him, to the officers and men under his command for their gallantry and good conduct in their late campaign from Chattanooga to Atlanta, and the triumphal march thence through Georgia to Savannah, terminating in the capture and occupation of that city; and that the President cause a copy of this joint resolution to be engrossed and presented to Major-General SHERMAN.
Approved, January 10, 1865.

24. That the thanks of Congress are due, and are hereby tendered, to Major-General ZACHARY TAYLOR, commanding the army of occupation, his officers and men, for the fortitude, skill, enterprise, and courage which have distinguished the recent brilliant operations on the Rio Grande. * * *
That the President of the United States be authorized and requested to have a medal of gold procured, with appropriate devices and inscriptions thereon, and presented to General TAYLOR, in the name of the Congress, as a tribute due to his good conduct, valor, and generosity to the vanquished.
Approved, July 26, 1849.

25. That the thanks of Congress are due, and are hereby tendered, to Major-General ZACHARY TAYLOR, his officers and men, for the fortitude, skill, enterprise, and courage which distinguished the late brilliant military operations at Monterey. * * * That the President be requested to cause to be struck a gold medal with devices emblematical of this splendid achievement, and presented to General TAYLOR, as a testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his judicious and distinguished conduct on that memorable occasion.
Approved, March 2, 1847.

26. That the thanks of Congress are due, and they are hereby tendered, to Major-General ZACHARY TAYLOR, and through him to the officers and soldiers of the Regular Army and of the volunteers under his command, for their valor, skill, and good conduct conspicuously displayed on the twenty-second and twenty-third days of February last, in the battle of Buena Vista, in defeating a Mexican army of more than four times their number, consisting of chosen troops under their favorite commander, General Santa Anna. * * * That the President of the United States be requested to cause to be struck a gold medal, with devices emblematical of this splendid achievement, and presented to Major-General ZACHARY TAYLOR as a testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his judicious and distinguished conduct on that memorable occasion.
Approved, May 9, 1848.

27. That the thanks of Congress are hereby presented to Brevet Major-General ALFRED H. TERRY, and to the officers and men under his command, for the unsurpassed gallantry and skill exhibited by them in the attack upon Fort Fisher, and the brilliant and decisive victory by which that important work has been captured from the rebel forces and placed in the possession and under the authority of the United States, and for their long and faithful services and unwavering devotion to the cause of the country in the midst of the greatest difficulties and dangers.
Approved, January 24, 1865.

28. That the thanks of Congress are due, and are hereby tendered, to Major-General GEORGE H. THOMAS, and the officers and soldiers under his command, for their skill and dauntless courage, by which the rebel army under General Hood was signally defeated and driven from the State of Tennessee.
Approved, March 3, 1865.

29. That the thanks of Congress are due, and are hereby tendered to Brevet Major-General JOHN E. WOOL, for his distinguished services in the late war with Mexico, and especially for the skill, enterprise, and courage which distinguished his conduct at the battle of Buena Vista.
That the President be requested to cause a sword, with suitable devices to be presented to General WOOL, as a testimony of the high sense entertained by Congress of his gallant and judicious conduct on that memorable occasion.
Approved, January 24, 1854.

ARTILLERY.

(Note. The dates opposite the names of the officers refer to the period they belonged to the organizations, and not to all cases date of rank. For date of rank and continuity of service see names in alphabetical list in Part II.)

BATTALION OF ARTILLERY.

(Four companies.)

September 29, 1789, to May 9, 1794.

One of these companies (Captain Doughty's) was retained in service from the Revolutionary Army; one other company (Captain Douglass's) was raised in Pennsylvania as part of that State's quota under resolve of Congress June 3, 1784; the two companies forming part of the infantry regiment under the command of Lieut. Col. Josiah Harmar. The other two companies were organized under the resolve of Congress of October 20, 1786, and the four companies were formed into a battalion under the command of Maj. John Doughty. By the act of September 29, 1789, this battalion was recognized as part of the establishment for the troops in the service of the United States.

On September 4, 1792, under the act of March 5, 1792, one company was assigned to each of the four sublegions into which the army was organized, and under the act of May 9, 1794, the Corps of Artillerists and Engineers authorized by that act was incorporated with this battalion, and the whole thereafter designated as the Corps of Artillerists and Engineers.

MAJORS—COMMANDANT.

Jno. Doughty, 29 Sept 1789 to 4 Mar 1791.
Wm. Ferguson, 4 Mar to 4 Nov 1791.
Henry Burbeck, 4 Nov 1791 to 9 May 1794.

CORPS OF ARTILLERISTS AND ENGINEERS.

May 9, 1794, to April 1, 1802.

Organized under the act of May 9, 1794, and incorporated with the preceding battalion of artillery, the whole to consist of four battalions of four companies each. The organization of the Corps of Artillerists and Engineers marked an important epoch in the military policy of the Government—the setting apart a portion of the Military Establishment for the duty, more particularly, of defending an extensive seacoast. The act of March 3, 1799, provided for placing the Corps and the Regiment of Artillerists and Engineers upon the same footing, and thereafter this organization was designated as the "First Regiment of Artillerists and Engineers." On April 1, 1802, under the act of March 16, 1802, the Artillerists and Engineers as a combined arm disappeared, and from the two regiments was formed the "Regiment of Artillerists."

LIEUTENANT-COLONELS—COMMANDANT.

S. Rochefontaine, 26 Feb 1795 to 7 May 1798.
Henry Burbeck, 7 May 1798 to 1 Apr 1802.

Constant Freeman, 28 Feb 1795 to 1 Apr 1802.
Mahlon Ford, 7 May 1798 to 1 Apr 1802.
Moses Porter, 26 May 1800 to 1 Apr 1802.

REGIMENT OF ARTILLERISTS AND ENGINEERS.

April 27, 1798, to April 1, 1802.

Organized under the act of April 27, 1798, to consist of three battalions, four companies each. The act of March 2, 1799, authorized an additional battalion of artillery, which, under the act of March 3, 1799, became part of this regiment, and thereafter the regiment was designated as the "Second Regiment of Artillerists and Engineers." On April 1, 1802, the Artillerists and Engineers as a combined arm disappeared, and from the two regiments was formed the "Regiment of Artillerists."

LIEUTENANT-COLONELS—COMMANDANT.

Jno. Doughty, 1 June 1798 to 26 May 1800.
Louis Toussard, 26 May 1800 to 1 Apr 1802.

MAJORS.

Benj. Brooks, 1 June 1798 to 9 Jan. 1800.
Adam Hoops, 1 June 1798 to 31 July 1800.

MAJORS—continued.

Danl. Jackson, 4 June 1798 to 1 Apr 1802.
Decius Wadsworth, 9 Jan 1800 to 1 Apr 1802.
Wm. Mac Rea, 31 July 1800 to 1 Apr 1802.
Jonathan Williams, 16 Feb 1801 to 1 Apr 1802.

REGIMENT OF ARTILLERISTS.

April 1, 1802, to May 12, 1814.

Formed April 1, 1802, under the act of March 16, 1802, from the preceding two regiments of Artillerists and Engineers, to consist of five battalions of four companies each. The act of January 11, 1812, authorized two regiments of artillery, which were designated as the Second and Third Regiments of artillery, and this regiment was thereafter known as the First Regiment of Artillery, but as regards promotion of the officers these regiments were always distinct—the First, or Regiment of Artillerists, was known as of the "peace establishment," and the rolls, returns, and reports were made out as of the "Regiment of Artillerists." On May 12, 1814, under the act of March 30, 1814, this regiment was consolidated with the Second and Third Regiments of artillery, forming the "Corps of Artillery."

COLONEL.

Henry Burbeck, 1 Apr 1802 to 12 May 1814.

LIEUTENANT-COLONEL.

J. B. Many, 5 May 1813 to 12 May 1814.

REGIMENT OF LIGHT ARTILLERY.

April 12, 1808, to June 1, 1821.

Organized under the act of April 12, 1808, to consist of ten companies. Capt. Geo. Peter's was the only company of this regiment which, prior to the war of 1812, was at any time equipped as field artillery. It was mounted as such in 1808 and dismounted in 1809. When the war of 1812 broke out some of the companies were equipped, and for a short time served as horse artillery, and others as field artillery. On May 17, 1815, under the act of March 3, 1815, the Fifteenth, Twenty-sixth, Thirtieth, Thirty-first, Thirty-fourth, and Forty-fifth Regiments of infantry were ordered to be mustered for consolidation with this regiment. On June 1, 1821, under the act of March 2, 1821, this organization ceased, and the companies were distributed among the present First, Second, Third, and Fourth Regiments of artillery.

[a] Promoted lieutenant-colonel corps of artillery to rank from April 19, 1814.

Thos. Pitts, 20 Jan 1813 to 31 Aug 1814.
R. H. Macpherson, 31 Aug to 12 Nov 1814.[a]
Wm. Campbell, 31 Aug 1814 to 17 May 1815.

SECOND REGIMENT.

January 11, 1812, to May 12, 1814.

Organized under the act of January 11, 1812, to consist of two battalions, each ten companies. On May 12, 1814, under the act of March 30, 1814, the regiment was consolidated with the First (Regiment of Artillerists) and Third Regiments of artillery, to form the Corps of Artillery.

CORPS OF ARTILLERY.

May 12, 1814, to June 1, 1821.

Formed May 12, 1814, under the act of March 30, 1814, by the consolidation of the First, Second, and Third Regiments of artillery, and to consist of twelve battalions of four companies each. On May 17, 1815, under the act of March 3, 1815, fixing the military peace establishment, the regiment of dragoons and the Forty-first, Forty-second, and Forty-third Regiments of infantry were consolidated with the Corps of Artillery, which thereafter consisted of eight battalions of four companies to each battalion. On June 1, 1821, under the act of March 2, 1821, the corps ceased to exist. From it and the regiment of light artillery were formed the First, Second, Third, and Fourth regiments of artillery.

[a] The Senate having refused to confirm him, the appointment was revoked November 12, 1814, and Campbell nominated, to rank from August 31, 1814.

[NOTE.—The act of March 2, 1821, provided that the four regiments of artillery should each consist of nine companies, one company of each regiment to be designated and equipped as light artillery. The act of July 5, 1838, added one company, the act of March 3, 1847, added two companies, and the act of March 2, 1899, added two batteries to each regiment of artillery. The act of February 11, 1847, authorized two majors and a quartermaster to each regiment in the Army, and under the act of March 3, 1847, the President was authorized to designate an additional company in each regiment of artillery to be equipped as light artillery. By the act of July 28, 1866, the first, second, third, and fourth regiments of artillery were allowed three majors, and companies were designated batteries. The designation "Battery" will be applied to companies of artillery not mounted, and the designation "Light Battery" to those mounted.—Adjutant-General, May 20, 1871. The act of February 2, 1901, discontinued the regimental organization of the artillery, and thereafter the artillery arm of the service was designated Artillery Corps, to consist of 30 batteries of field artillery and one hundred and twenty-six companies coast artillery.]

FIRST REGIMENT.

June 1, 1821, to February 2, 1901.

CAVALRY.

[The three regiments of cavalry authorized by the act of March 2, 1799, were not raised. The act of February 11, 1847, authorized two majors and a quartermaster to each regiment in the Army; the act of July 29, 1861, authorized three majors to the Sixth Cavalry, and by the act of July 17, 1862, three majors and a commissary were allowed to all cavalry regiments. The grade of commissary was abolished by the act of July 15, 1870, and reestablished by the act of March 3, 1899, which allowed one to each regiment of cavalry and infantry.]

DRAGOONS.

SQUADRON OF LIGHT DRAGOONS.

March 5, 1792, to July 16, 1798.

Organized under the act of March 5, 1792, and to consist of four troops. On September 4, 1792, one troop was assigned to each of the four sublegions. By the act of May 5, 1796, only two troops were retained in service after October 31, 1796, with no field officer. By the act of July 16, 1798, these two troops, and the six troops authorized by this act, formed the Regiment of Light Dragoons.

MAJORS COMMANDANT.

Michael Rudolph, 5 Mar 1792 to 17 July 1793.
Wm. Winston, 17 July 1793 to 1 Nov 1796.

REGIMENT OF LIGHT DRAGOONS.

July 16, 1798, to June 15, 1800.

Organized under the act of July 16, 1798, which provided that the six troops authorized by this act, together with the two troops of dragoons now in service, should be formed into a regiment. The act of May 14, 1800, directed the discharge of the regiment on or before June 15, 1800, excepting the two troops authorized under the act of March 5, 1792, which were retained in service to June 1, 1802, when discharged under the act of March 16, 1802. No field officer was retained with these two troops.

REGIMENT OF LIGHT DRAGOONS.

April 12, 1808, to May 17, 1815.

Organized under the act of April 12, 1808, as the regiment of light dragoons, and to consist of eight troops. The act of January 11, 1812, authorizing another regiment made this the First Regiment of dragoons. On May 12, 1814, under the act of March 30, 1814, the two regiments of light dragoons were consolidated into one regiment of eight troops, and designated as the Regiment of Light Dragoons. On May 17, 1815, under the act of March 3, 1815, the regiment was consolidated with the Corps of Artillery, and all officers not retained were discharged June 15, 1815.

INFANTRY.

FIRST REGIMENT OF INFANTRY.

September 29, 1789, to May 17, 1815.

This regiment was organized under the resolve of Congress of June 3, 1784, to serve twelve months, and by subsequent resolves of Congress continued until, by the act of September 29, 1789, it was recognized as part of the establishment for the troops in the service of the United States as the Regiment of Infantry. The act of April 30, 1790, more fully completed the organization of the regiment. Upon the organization of the additional regiment authorized by the act of March 3, 1791, this became the First Regiment of Infantry. On September 4, 1792, by direction of the President under section 3 of the act of March 5, 1792, the Army was designated the "Legion of the United States," which was divided into four sublegions. The regiment formed part of the First Sublegion, and so continued to November 1, 1796, when it reverted to its former designation of First Regiment of Infantry.

On May 17, 1815, under the act of March 3, 1815, the regiment was consolidated with the Seventeenth, Nineteenth, Twenty-fourth, Twenty-eighth, and Thirty-ninth regiments of infantry to form the Third Regiment of Infantry.

[a] Promotions above the grade of captain prohibited June 17, 1878, to March 4, 1879—act of June 17, 1878.

[a] The act of February 11, 1847, allowed two majors to each regiment in the Army; also a quartermaster to each. The act of July 28, 1866, allowed only one major to each regiment of infantry; the act of April 26, 1898, allowed two majors, and the act of March 2, 1899, allowed three majors to each regiment of infantry. The records prior to 1815 are incomplete; hence regimental staff officers can not be given with any degree of accuracy or continuity of service prior to that date.

[b] Appointment negatived by Senate.

EIGHTEENTH REGIMENT.

June 26, 1812, to May 17, 1815.

Organized under the act of June 26, 1812. The regiment was consolidated May 17, 1815, under the act of March 3, 1815, with the Fifth and Thirty-fifth regiments of infantry, to form the Eighth Regiment of Infantry.

[NOTE.—It will be observed that in the eight regiments of infantry (Eighteenth to Twenty-fifth, inclusive) organized under the act of June 26, 1812, many of the field officers have a date of rank anterior to the act. They were nominated and confirmed as officers of infantry under the act of January 11, 1812, as of the dates here given, and were originally intended for the ten additional regiments of infantry (Eighth to Seventeenth, inclusive). The assignment to regiments of all the officers was, however, not made until after the act of June 26, 1812. Subsequently a board of officers was appointed to consider the date of rank and prior service in the Army or militia of the officers appointed under the act of January 11, 1812, and upon their report the date of rank was changed to July 6, 1812. See (section 3) act of March 17, 1812, and the Army Registers for 1812 and 1813. In this compilation the original date of rank is adhered to.]

LEGION.

THE LEGION OF THE UNITED STATES.

March 5, 1792, to November 1, 1796.

Organized under section 3 of the act of March 5, 1792. Section 2 of the act of March 5, 1792, authorized the raising of three additional regiments of infantry, a squadron of dragoons, and also directed the completion of the two regiments of infantry and the battalion of artillery then in service. Section 3 of the same act provided "That it shall be lawful for the President of the United States to organize the said five regiments of infantry and the said corps of horse and artillery, as he shall judge expedient, diminishing the number of corps and adding to another, as shall appear to him proper." * * * Under the provision of this section, and upon the recommendation of Gen. Henry Knox, the then Secretary of War, President Washington directed the formation of "The Legion of the United States." On April 9, 1792, the President nominated to the Senate six majors for the "proposed third and fourth legionary corps," three to each; also surgeons and surgeons' mates for the "four proposed legionary corps." On September 4, 1792, Maj. Gen. Anthony Wayne, then Commander in Chief, in general orders, dated Pittsburg, Pa., announced and prescribed the formation of the Legion of the United States, which was to consist of four sublegions, each sublegion to be commanded by a brigadier-general. On December 27, 1792, Congress was informed of the President's action. In the formation of first and second sublegions, the First Infantry became part of the First Sublegion and the Second Infantry part of the Second Sublegion. The legion, however, was not fully completed until the spring of 1793, when, instead of a brigadier-general to command a sublegion (several having declined the appointment of brigadier-general), the President nominated officers to the rank of lieutenant-colonel as commandants of the four sublegions.

In the first and second sublegions the field officers are shown as beginning with September 4, 1792, and in the third and fourth sublegion date of actual rank is stated.

On November 1, 1796, under the act of May 30, 1796, the President arranged and completed out of the legion four regiments of infantry and two companies of light dragoons, forming the regiments as far as practicable, so that the infantry of the First Sublegion again became the First Infantry and of the Second Sublegion the Second Infantry. The infantry of the Third Sublegion became the Third Infantry and of the Fourth Sublegion the Fourth Infantry. Officers and soldiers not retained were discharged November 1, 1796, with six months' pay and subsistence.

Order showing the formation of "The Legion of the United States."

"In pursuance of the orders of the Secretary of War, I, by virtue of the powers and authority vested in me by the President of the United States, the following shall be the arrangement of the officers of the four sublegions in the Army of the United States:

First Sublegion.—Majors, John F. Hamtramck, Richard Call, Eskuries Beatty; captain of artillery, Mahlon Ford; captain of dragoons, Jedediah Rogers; captains of infantry, Ballard Smith, Thomas Doyle, John Pratt, William Kersey, William Peters, Jacob Kingsbury, Thomas A. Martin, and Cornelius R. Sedam; captains of riflemen, John Armstrong, Thomas Pasteur, Thomas Lewis, and John Cummins.

Second Sublegion.—Majors, David Strong, John Smith, and Joseph Ashton; captain of artillery, John Peirce; captain of dragoons, John Stake; captains of infantry, Richard B. Roberts, Thomas Hughes, Thomas Hunt, John Mills, John H. Buell, Jonathan Cass, Thomas H. Cushing, and Jonathan Haskell; captains of riflemen, John Shaylor, Bezaleel Howe, William Preston, and John Cooke.

Third Sublegion.—Majors, Henry Gaither, John Clark, and George M. Bedinger; captain of artillery, Moses Porter; captain of dragoons, Henry Bowyer; captains of infantry, John Jeffers, Abner Prior, Nicholas Hannah, Zebulon Pike, Isaac Guion-John Heath, Joseph Kerr, and William Lewis; captains of riflemen, William Faulk, ner, Howell Lewis, Richard Sparks, and Uriah Springer.

Fourth Sublegion.—Majors, Alexander Trueman, Thomas Butler, and William McMahon; captain of artillery, Daniel McLane; captain of dragoons, William Winston; captains of infantry, Daniel Bradley, Henry Carbery, William Buchanan, Jacob Slough, William Eaton, and Richard S. Howe; captains of riflemen, Edward Butler, James Stephenson, Alexander Gibson, and John Crawford. * * *

Done at headquarters, Pittsburg, September 4, 1792.

ANTHONY WAYNE,
Major-General and Commander in Chief of the Legion of the United States.

GENERAL ORDERS.

HEADQUARTERS,
Pittsburg, September 11, 1792.

The officers being arranged to the four sublegions, it now becomes expedient to give those legions distinctive marks, which are to be as follows:

The First Sublegion, white binding upon their caps, with white plumes and black hair.

The Second Sublegion, red binding to their caps, red plumes with white hair.

The Third Sublegion, yellow binding to their caps, yellow plumes and black hair.

The Fourth Sublegion, green binding to their caps, with green plumes and white hair.

1783. By the act of 27 Feb 1784 it was "Resolved, whereas the United States in Congress assembled, are well informed, and entertain a just sense of the great bravery, intelligence, zeal, and activity manifested during the course of the late war with Great Britain, by Brigadier-General Armand, Marquis de Roueire, in the service of the United States, and, whereas it also appears by a letter from the late commander in chief, dated at Philadelphia, 15 Dec 1783, addressed to the said General Armand, that, superadded to general merit for good conduct, vigilance, and bravery, General Armand has, in a variety of instances, particularly signalized himself as an excellent officer and great partisan, and frequently rendered the United States very valuable services. Resolved, that the President write a letter to General Armand, Marquis de la Roueire, expressive of the high sense Congress are impressed with, of the services he has rendered the United States in the course of the late war with Great Britain, and of the entire approbation the United States in Congress assembled entertain of his bravery, activity, and zeal so often evidenced in the cause of America." Capt in the Lexington Alarm — Apr 1775; at Ticonderoga and Crown Point 10 May 1775; appd by Gen Washington col Contl Army 1 Sept 1775; wounded at Quebec 31 Dec 1775; col 20 contl inf 1 Jan 1776 to rank from 1 Sept 1775; brig gen Contl Army 10 Jan 1776 and maj gen 17 Feb 1777. By the resolve of congs of 20 May 1777 it was "Resolved, that the Quartermaster-General be directed to procure a horse and present the same, properly caparisoned, to Major-General Arnold, in the name of this Congress, as a token of their approbation of his gallant conduct in the action against the enemy in their late enterprise to Danbury, in which General Arnold had one horse killed under him and another wounded."

By resolution of Congress of 4 Nov 1777 it was "Resolved, that the thanks of Congress, in their own name, and in behalf of the inhabitants of the thirteen United States, be presented to Major-General Gates, commander in chief in the Northern Department, and to Major-Generals Lincoln and Arnold, and the rest of the officers and troops under his command, for their brave and successful efforts in support of the independence of their country, whereby an army of the enemy of 10,000 men has been totally defeated, one large detachment of it, strongly posted and intrenched, having been conquered at Bennington, another repulsed with loss and disgrace from Fort Schuyler, and the main army of 6,000 men, under Lieutenant-General Burgoyne, after being beaten in different actions and driven from a formidable post and strong intrenchments, reduced to the necessity of surrendering themselves upon terms honorable and advantageous to these States, on the 17th of October last, to Major-General Gates."

Deserted to the enemy 25 Sept 1780 and his name dropped from the rolls of the army by order of congs 4 Oct 1780. [Died 14 June 1801].

By the act of 29 Oct., 1781, it was "Resolved, That the thanks of the United States in Congress assembled be presented to Major-General Greene for his wise, decisive, and magnanimous conduct in the action of the 8th of September last near the Eutaw Springs, in South Carolina, in which, with a force inferior in number to that of the enemy, he obtained a most signal victory * * * that a British stand of colors be presented to Major-General Greene as an honorable testimony of his merit, and a golden medal emblematical of the battle and victory aforesaid."

By the act of 17 Jan., 1783, it was "Resolved, That the thanks of the United States in Congress assembled be presented to Major-General Greene for his many signal and important services, and that he be assured that Congress retain a lively sense of the frequent and uniform proofs he has given of prudence, wisdom, and military skill during his command in the Southern Department."

By the act of 18 Oct., 1783, it was "Resolved, That two pieces of the field ordnance taken from the British army at the Cowpens, Augusta, or Eutaw be presented by the Commander in Chief of the Armies of the United States to Major-General Greene as a public testimony of the wisdom, fortitude, and skill which distinguished his command in the Southern Department and of the eminent services which, amidst complicated difficulties and dangers and against an enemy greatly superior in numbers, he has successfully performed for his country, and that a memorandum be engraved on said pieces of ordnance expressive of the substance of this resolution."
